Console https:Q: RelativeLayout - Are all children views on the same level (i.e. top to bottom) when assessing visibility? So I'm working with the Android framework in Eclipse and I'm trying to understand how android.widget.RelativeLayout works. In my case I'm trying to understand how RelativeLayout handles a situation where one of the views is either below or above the first view that is currently being displayed. I have created a simple layout for this question - it contains one view, with its layout_below and layout_above attributes set. There are no other views.
